Flash Flood Takes 21 Lives In West Virginia; 33 Missing

WEST UNION, W. Va.—(P)—At least 21 persons were dead and 33 missing today in the wake of flash floods that struck a six-county area of north-central West Virginia early Sunday morning. The surging torrents rolled out of the darkness without warning.

Authorities fear the toll may go much higher. At least 12 of the 15 members of a family gathered for a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bailey at Smithburg, five miles west of here, are missing.

Families Wiped Out

Only one member of the Bailey family is known to be alive. The body of Mrs. Bailey, about 60, has been recovered, and another boy, believed to be that of a five-month-old grandson, also has been found.

The Bailey home was directly in the path of the flood. Sheriff Paul B. Davis said the house was carried nearly two miles downstream.

The only known survivor of the family is Charles Bailey, a son, who is in a West Union hospital with a fractured leg, cuts and bruises.

Six members of the B. J. Cooper family at Smithburg also were listed as dead in the swirling waters, and three members of another family there were killed when their home was pounded in bits against a railway trestle.

Youths Spread Warning
Berea, a little agricultural community located on a horse shoe curve of the south fork of the Hughes river south of here, also was hard hit. Six persons were known dead there, including a grandmother and two of her grandchildren.

Postmaster Ray Bonnell said the toll at Berea might have been higher except for the Paul River actions of two of the town's young men, Harland Hodge and Charles Bridge, who dashed through the community knocking on doors to warn residents.

Two of the victims at Berea, Mrs. Clara Bee, 70, and her brother, William Gribble, 72, of Cleveland, lost their lives trying to warn the other four who died there.

Mrs. Bee and Gribble, who was in Berea on a visit, tried to reach the home where Mrs. Grover Koontz, 65, lived with her two grandchildren, Lester Sullivan, 10, and Wilda Sullivan, 8, and Mrs. Hobart Brake.

Brother and sister were caught in the flood. Residents of the town told of hearing them scream as the surging waters carried them away.

At Weston, firemen had to chop a hole in the roof to evacuate Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peters and their four children, who had fled to the attic of their home. The water was still climbing and they had no other avenue of escape.

At Troy, to the south in Gilmer county, an 80-year-old couple were rescued from their upstairs bedroom. They were standing on the bed with water lapping at their knees.

House Speeds Up Work For July 4 Recess

Ten-Day Vacation Held Out As Bait

WASHINGTON — (P) — The promise of a long Fourth of July recess was held out to the House today as bait for prompt passage of a bill cutting excise taxes by $1,010,000,000.

It's the only controversial major business on the House calendar this week and passage is expected Thursday.

After that the House plans to hang up the "no controversial business" sign for 10 days and let its members get away to their home districts to campaign for reelection. It will be the fourth time since January that House members have been able to leave Washington to do some political spadework without missing a roll-call.

Draft Law Intact

The Senate, less fortunate than the House as far as holidays have been concerned, might get a long week-end for itself. It is scheduled to pass a $1,200,000,000 foreign military aid bill during the week, with nothing else of major importance now carded.

International tension over the Korean warfare might change the picture and keep the lawmakers in Washington but for the present at least the plans for a long week-end were left unchanged.

A controversy over extension of the draft law could snag the holiday plans also. Unable to agree on the form of extension, congress jammed through last Thursday a measure keeping the present law intact until July 9. The old law expired last Friday at midnight.

Final Goal Aug. 1

The House has voted for a two-year extension with a ban on automatic extensions unless congress expressly approves by separate action. The Senate passed a three-year extension bill with a ban on inductions unless congress finds it necessary, but with permission for the president to order inductions in an emergency if congress is not in session.

Congressional leaders are hopeful that a compromise can be worked out this week without the necessity for another stop-gap extension.

With only a few big "must" bills still unfinished, leaders are optimistic about the chances for final adjournment of congress around August 1.

Soo Bugle Corps Keeps Championship

SAULT STE. MARIE — More than 3,000 persons turned out Saturday night to see the Sault Legion drum and bugle corps recapture the Upper Peninsula championship which it has held continuously since 1936.

The Sault unit's only threat came from a recently organized L'Anse drum and bugle corps which placed second in the maneuvers. Sault scored 91.5 points out of a possible 100, and L'Anse scored 83.8 points.

In drill team competition the Kingsford Post took first with 56.1 points out of a possible 60; Ishpeming second with 52.9; Manistig third with 50.5, and Menominee fourth with 33.8.

Refrigerators Melt

PATERSON, N. J.—(P)—It was so hot in Paterson over the weekend that three refrigerators, laboring overtime, burst into flames. The fire department put each one out with little trouble.

LABOR QUEEN CROWNED—Gov. G. Mennen Williams placed the crown on the head of pretty Jeanne St. George, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mose St. George of L'Anse, at the Samuel Gompers Centennial celebration at the U. P. State Fairgrounds Saturday afternoon. Queen Jeanne, a L'Anse high school junior, won the title of Upper Peninsula labor queen in a contest in which about twenty girls competed. (Daily Press Photo)

Signs Of Lost Airliner Found Off St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mich.—(P)—Evidence built up today that lightning shattered a Northwest airliner plane over Lake Michigan early last Friday and scattered bits of wreckage and bodies in the lake's deep waters.

All 58 occupants of the DC-4 are presumed dead as a result of the worst air tragedy in the nation's history.

Bits of human bodies already have been recovered from the lake northwest of here. So have a piece of a blue blanket, a portion of a suitcase and fragments of clothing.

Five coast guard cutters explored the area today in search of more evidence.

An electrical storm was raging over the state about the time the plane passed over on its New York-to-Minneapolis route. Persons living near the shore said they heard and saw what appeared to be a terrific explosion over the lake about the same time.

The piece of blanket—marked with the letters NW—was identified early today by Paul Ben-scooter, airline representative, as the type used on Northwest planes.

The weather was clear and the lake calm when the five coast guard vessels, the Woodbine, the Mackinaw, the Hollyhook, the White Lupine and cutter 83428, began their daylight search.

A contingent of 50 newsmen was on one of the cutters.

Capt. Nathaniel S. Fulford, heading the operations for the ninth coast guard district said the lake at the spot being searched is 200 to 300 feet deep. Therefore, he said, grappling hooks would be useless.

The coast guardsmen found a part of a woman's skull, part of a man's back, and a piece of human stomach flesh.

Hurricane Hits At Rhinelander

RHINELANDER, Wis.—(P)—A violent windstorm blasted an area near here last night, demolishing several homes, causing two drownings and injuring at least a dozen persons.

The storm, accompanied by a downpour of rain, hit about 8:30 p. m. (CST) and lasted only a few minutes. Oneida county sheriff's officers said 10 or a dozen homes in its path were turned into scattered piles of lumber. Automobiles and trucks were blown off highways. Two persons were reported missing.

Officers said Kenneth Nyberg and Freda Watson, both of Rhinelander, disappeared in the Wisconsin river after their rowboat overturned in the wind-lashed waters.

The Rhinelander hospital reported that at least 10 persons were treated there for injuries.

Russia Demands Seat In UN For China Communists

TOKYO — (P)—Russia's representative on the Allied council for Japan insisted today that the Chinese Nationalist member be replaced by a Chinese Communist.

The demand was made by Col. S. Polyashenko, acting Soviet member of the council, who has not attended a session since he took over last month on the departure for Moscow of Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko.

Derevyanko himself previously had ignored, walked out of or boycotted previous meetings.

Colonel Polyashenko said he supported a demand by the Chinese Communists "and on my own part insist" on expulsion of the council's Chinese Nationalist delegate.

The Soviet demand was made in a letter, dated June 23, to Council Chairman William Seabald of the U. S. The letter was distributed by a representative of the Soviet News Agency Tass.

Polyashenko called for recognition of Red General Chou Shih-Ti "as the sole legal representative of China."

The Russian did not say he would boycott future council meetings at which Nationalist China is represented—as the Soviets have done in the United Nations. But it is doubtful that he will attend council sessions unless a Chinese Communist is seated—an unlikely possibility.

Parolee Kills Corunna Girl, 8

CORUNNA, Mich.—(P)—A parolee convicted who admitted raping and killing eight-year-old Virginia Mae Bird in her foster parents' home was held by police today.

Clifford Pulver, 32, was arrested about 12 hours after Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bird found their small adopted daughter dead on a couch Sunday morning.

"I did it, but I don't know what I did," Shiawasee county sheriff Charles Downer quoted Pulver as saying.

Pulver, brother of Bird's first wife, had come to the Bird home Saturday night, asking if he could sleep there because he had been drinking and thought his mother would be angry.

Bird gave his permission. Early Sunday morning, Mrs. Bird noticed Virginia Mae was lying in a strange position on the couch where she slept outside her parents' bedroom. She found the girl had been strangled, and coroner Kenneth Oakes reported Virginia was raped.

Mrs. Bird, expecting another child, was placed under a doctor's care after finding Virginia Mae dead.

Briggs Body Plant Walkout Averted

DETROIT—(P)—A strike of 30,000 Briggs Manufacturing Co. employees, threatened for mid-morning today, has been averted. Briggs and the CIO United Auto Workers reached final agreement on a new three-year contract Saturday night. It calls for a five-cent hourly wage boost, a $100-a-month pension plan and other benefits.

A Briggs strike there would have cut off all auto bodies from Chrysler's Plymouth division and from the Packard Motor Car Co.

Ships Collide In Fog Near Harbor Beach; 3 Killed, One Missing

DETROIT—(P)—The City of Cleveland III, her rear port side splintered in a fog-shrouded crash that claimed at least three lives, straggled home last night.

The white-decked excursion ship collided with a Norwegian freighter at 6:20 a. m. Sunday on Lake Huron, near Harbor Beach in Michigan's thumb district. The other ship loomed suddenly out of a "pea soup" fog about five miles off shore.

Three Badly Hurt
Besides the three who died in the wreckage, one man still is missing and six others reported injured. Three are in a critical condition at a hospital in Harbor Springs.

All except one of the victims were with a cruising party of 50 Benton Harbor Chamber of Commerce members. Approximately 145 crew members also were aboard.

The dead include former Benton Harbor mayor Mervyn Stouck and Alvin J. Boyd, 55, the city's police chief.

The bow of the freighter, the Ravnefell, bit through the light superstructure of the great lakes queen. It crumpled a 40-foot swath 10 feet deep into the upper decks of the pleasure ship.

The passengers, many of them still asleep, were tossed from their low bunks. A few were dumped into the water, as the two ships edged apart again.

There was "no panic, no pandemonium," when the freighter hit, one passenger reported.

Bodies In Wreckage
A lifeboat was lowered and crew members sifted through the wreckage that spread over an area as big as a city block.

From the water they took the

Communists Smash To Seoul Gates

SEOUL, Korea—(P)—Communist invaders from North Korea threw a tank column to the outskirts of Seoul early today, and President Syngman Rhee blamed the crisis on "too little and too late" American aid.

(By The Associated Press)
The invading troops of the Soviet-supported North Korean Republic drove a tank column to the outskirts of Seoul early Tuesday (Korean time) and their commander - in - chief demanded the surrender of the southern Republic.

Gen. Chai Ung Jun, whose troops invaded southern Korea on Sunday, broadcast the demand over the Pyongyang radio. The Communist forces were acting swiftly, apparently in an effort to force surrender before promised American military aid could be turned to the southern Republic's advantage.

Resistance Crumbles
Prospects of total defeat for the American-supported southern Republic through bad morale rather than being beaten in the field were in evidence at Seoul.

The tank column that reached the outskirts of Seoul pierced two full southern divisions totaling 20,000 men that were engaged in a counterattack. The column met with little or no resistance on its last dozen miles.

On Monday night (Korean time) the armored column had been within nine miles of Seoul after tanks and artillery of the northern Communist government had crumbled resistance at Uijongbu, 12 miles from Seoul. After capturing the town, the column sped down Uijongbu valley.

Two southern divisions totalling

Farm Benefits Vote Up Today

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senator Ellender (D-La.) claimed enough votes today to complete congressional action on a $2,000,000,000 increase in government farm price support funds.

As the Senate prepared to vote on the farm bill at 3 p. m. (EST), there was some determined opposition—aimed not at the price supports but at an amendment intended to halt or reduce farm imports from Canada, Mexico and other nations.

Leading this opposition were Senators Magnuson (D-Wash.) and More (R-Ore.). They have objected to spending government funds to keep prices high for U. S. farmers, while allowing potatoes, fruits, grains, beef cattle and other competitive imports to add to domestic price and surplus problems.

The $2,000,000,000 in price support cash provided by the bill would be in addition to $4,500,000,000 now in use by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC)—the agriculture department agency which carries out the support programs. With most of its funds now tied up, the CCC has delayed announcement of new price support levels for this year's crops pending congressional action on the additional funds.

Accidents Kill 26 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Death took a toll of at least 26 persons during Michigan's hottest weekend yet this year.

Three business men died and fourth is missing in a Lake Huron tragedy early Sunday—the collision of a Detroit and Cleveland passenger steamer and a lake freighter.

Fourteen persons died in accidents on crowded highways. Of the thousands who sought to cool off at lakes and beaches, at least eight drowned. One man was struck by lightning and killed.

Victims of the lake crash were Alvin J. Boyd, 55, Benton Harbor police chief, Merwyn Stouck, former mayor of that city, and Louis Pertucci, 40, of South Bend, Ind. Fred Skelley, Benton Harbor auto dealer, is missing.

The Benton Harbor men were on a chamber of commerce lake cruise and had planned to visit Detroit. The two vessels rammed together about five miles off Harbor Beach in the thumb area.

Escaped Ionia Slayer Hunted

IONIA, Mich.—(P)—Ionia State hospital guards today pressed their search near Lake Odessa for an escaped inmate described as dangerous after recapturing a companion shortly after midnight.

The fugitive, 24-year-old Glen Brough, dashed off into roadside underbrush as hospital attendant guards seized Donald Harris, 19, at 12:30 a. m. along US-16 southwest of Ionia.

Both were committed from Muskegon. Brough was convicted 10 years ago in the axe mutilation slaying of a playmate. Harris was confined as a criminal sexual psychopath following a gross indecency conviction in 1948.

They were missed at 3:30 p. m. yesterday while working on a kitchen detail. After hiding in a makeshift rooming house, they crawled through the shaft to get out of the building.

Hospital authorities posted a $100 reward for information leading to the recapture of the pair. Sheriff's officers joined guards in the search for Brough.

Thousands Idle As Strike Ties Up 4 Railroads

CHICAGO—(P)—The strike of 4,000 AFL switchmen had brought four major western railroads to a standstill today and had thrown thousands of other workers out of jobs.

Lines tied up by the walkout yesterday morning of the Switchmen's Union of North America are the 8,000-mile Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; the 2,413-mile Denver and Rio Grande Western; the 1,500-mile Chicago and Great Western; and the 1,125-mile Western Pacific.

The fifth struck line, the 8,000-mile Great Northern, said it has maintained near normal passenger service but that its freight movements have been crippled.

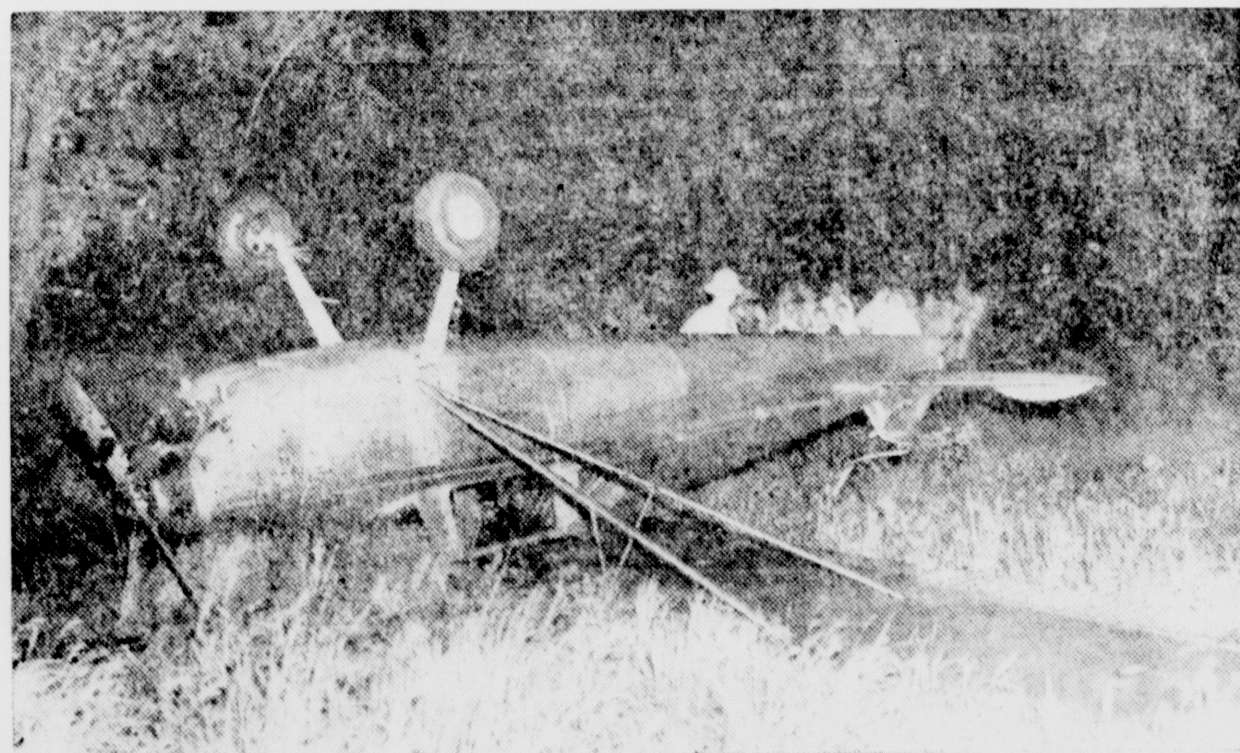

The men left their jobs in support of a demand for a 40-hour week at the present 48-hours pay, equal to a wage boost of 31 cents an hour. In taking the strike action, they rejected a recommendation by a presidential fact-finding board that they be granted a 40-hour week and a pay increase of 18 cents an hour.

The union now has a contract with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad at the terms requested of the other lines. That agreement raised the pay of switch foremen or yard conductors from $13.06 a day to $15.67; helpers or yard brakemen from $12.21 to $14.65, and switch tenders from $10.71 to $12.95.

The strike deadline at 6 a. m. local time yesterday found the four railroads ready to halt operations. They had announced earlier that if final negotiations failed of a settlement, they would not even try to run any trains during the strike.

They announced the layoff of at least 6,000 other employees, most of them effective today.

Study Garden Street Funds

County Road Service Question Raised

Following disclosures by Supervisor Omer Tanguay, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, the Delta county board of supervisors today approved appointment of a special committee to study road commission services to the village of Garden.

The question is whether the village, separate unit of government in Garden township, has fully paid for the services it has received from the Delta county road department.

Supervisor Tanguay reported to the board that for a period from 1939 to June 1, 1950, the village of garden has received a total of $12,484 in weight and gas tax revenue from the state.

For the same period the village has paid the county road department about $1,900 for snow plowing each winter and for other work. Supervisor Tanguay told the board of supervisors. Weight and gas tax funds returned to the local units are for work on county roads or city and village streets.

It was moved by Supervisor C. W. Stoll of Escanaba, chairman of the county finance committee, that Board Chairman Harold Gustafson appoint a special committee to investigate the situation. This committee has yet to be named by the chairman.

Several routine matters were discussed by the board this morning and referred to committees. Included were the following:
Request of the county road commission to "prospect" for gravel on county property in the vicinity of the Delta Convalescent Home.

Approval of a low bid of $358 by Charles A. Anderson of Gladstone to paint the exterior of the county-owned Webster annex building.

Decision to have the buildings and grounds committee ask for bids to be studied by the board at its October meeting.

Plane Pilot In Forced Landing

Everett Sharp, 28, Escapes Injury

Everett Sharp, 28, of 3807 Broadway, Menominee, pilot of a two-place light plane, escaped injury at 8:40 o'clock last night when he made a forced landing in a field at Wells.

The tail of the plane was smashed when it nosed over in the muck of the field, which was formerly a celery patch. The plane was otherwise undamaged.

The field is located at the intersection of the Wells road and county road 426, the old US-241 highway.

Deputy Sheriff Emil Johnson, who investigated the accident said Sharp told him he was running low on gas and could not locate the Escanaba airport because of fog.

Sharp flew from Menominee to Flint yesterday morning. In returning he landed at Manistique and gassed up. Leaving there he ran into heavy fog over Bays de Noquet and flew around for an hour or more trying to locate himself.

With the gas running low he descended until the plane was about 50 feet above the lake. Seeing the lights of the C&NW ore docks he was guided to the shore, where he decided to set the plane down in the field near Wells.

Sharp is a licensed pilot with about 80 hours of flying time, Deputy Sheriff Johnson said.

Red Buck Scouts Off To Jamboree

Group Will Camp At Valley Forge

Eighteen Boy Scouts of Red Buck district and three leaders today left for Valley Forge, Pa., to participate in the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

Making the trip from this district were the following Scouts and leaders:
Con. Desilets, David Gasman and Richard Noon, Explorer Post 400, Escanaba; Jim Gagnon and Richard Hengesh, Troop 444, Escanaba; Curtis Trams and David Gilbert, Troop 454, Escanaba; William Peltier, James McCormick, William Harrison, Troop 453, Escanaba; Carl Bennett Jr. and Daniel Boyle, Troop 455, Escanaba.

James Blowers and Harold Hebert, Troop 421, Nahma; Wayne Wolfe, Troop 46, and William Schobert, Troop 462, both of Manistique.

James Lombard, William Daniels, Troop 478, Hermansville.
Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health district, left with the contingent to act as medical officer for the Scouts of this region; and the leaders of the Red Buck district Scouts at the jamboree are Sidney C. Bauers, scoutmaster of Troop 460, Manistique, assisted by Richard Ostlund, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 454, Escanaba.

Early Passion Plays were so realistic, says the National Geographic Society, that in 1437 a Lorraine priest playing the role of Christ hung on a cross until near death.

Services will be held at the Alto funeral home at 2 Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Otto Steen officiating and burial will be in Lakeview cemetery. Friends of the family may call at the funeral home beginning today.

Decision to have the buildings and grounds committee ask for bids to be studied by the board at its October meeting.

Axel Peterson, Former Escanaban, Dies In Milwaukee

Mr. Peterson was born in Sweden in 1863. He served with the Chicago and North Western Railway for 51 continuous years, retiring in 1937. For the past three years he and his wife have lived with their daughter in Milwaukee.

Surviving are the widow, four sons and four daughters, 27 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the First Lutheran church in Iron Mountain Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Pearson who was in Milwaukee at the time of her father's death will go from there to Iron Mountain for the rites.

Labor Urged To Get In Politics

Governor Williams And Mullens Speak

Organized labor was urged by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, in an address at the Samuel Gompers Centennial celebration Saturday afternoon, to use both its "political and economic arms" to achieve a higher standard of living in this country.

"If you rely solely on your economic arm and pay no attention to the political arm," the governor asserted, "you will find that your political arm will wither and your economic arm will be tied behind your back."

Governor Williams said that while labor won some increases in wages in the postwar years much of these gains were lost when the government abandoned price controls. He was particularly critical of the 80th Congress. "What labor won at the bargaining table, it lost at the kitchen table," the state's chief executive declared. "Wages went up some, of course, but prices went higher."

Governor Raps MPSC
Discussing state politics, Governor Williams criticized the Michigan Public Service commission which, he said, he inherited from the previous administration. He charged that the commission, by its actions, has served to cut down labor's economic advantages.

"You get a wage cut every time the Michigan Public Service commission raises the rates for electric utility and telephone services," the governor asserted.

Mayor Jack Mullens of Carrolltown, Pa., who is international vice president of the United Steelworkers-CIO, urged labor to exercise its right to vote in elections and to participate actively in public affairs.

"Good Radicals"
Mullens said that the term "radical" is often used to discredit labor leaders, but he pointed out that "good radicals," like Samuel Gompers, have made a definite contribution to a better world. George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt were all called radicals in their time, he added, because they were "not content to accept the status quo."

"Even Jesus Christ was regarded as a radical by many people of his time because he brought to this world a new religion and social philosophy," Mullens asserted. The Escanaba municipal band played during the program. Frank Schon of Manistique presided as chairman. The address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Peter Logan of Escanaba.

Thousand Employees Give Pint Of Blood

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—One thousand employees of North American Aviation, Inc., each gave a pint of blood to the American Red Cross yesterday, the largest mass donation here since the war. Edward M. Schottland, director of the Red Cross blood service, said "it establishes what we believe to be a national record since establishment of the civilian program."

Seventy-five Red Cross workers set up facilities for the mass donation in a hangar at Los Angeles International airport. Five station wagons transported the volunteers to and from the hangar from 10:30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

U. P. Organizes Labor Council

James Doran Heads Regional Group

James Doran of Escanaba, president of the Escanaba Trades and Labor Council, was elected chairman of the Upper Peninsula Labor Council at its organization meeting at the Teamsters Union hall, Sheridan road, yesterday.

Millard McKitt of Sault Ste. Marie was named vice chairman, and Alex LeGault of Iron Mountain, secretary-treasurer.

Lester McWilliams of Ishpeming was chosen educational director of the Upper Peninsula Labor Council. The following regional directors were also elected: William Pascoe, Beacons; Byron McCombie, Marquette; John Bower, Manistique; Millard J. McKitt, Sault Ste. Marie; Albert Agre, Iron Mountain; E. C. Krouth, Gladstone; William G. Morrow, Escanaba; Lloyd Hill, Iron River, and Ed Fish, L'Anse.

Officers of 60 Upper Peninsula union locals, who came to Escanaba to attend the Samuel Gompers Centennial celebration, were present at the meeting.

The newly-created Upper Peninsula Labor Council will be composed of delegates from the American Federation of Labor, Committee on Industrial Organization, the Big Four railroad brotherhoods and independent union locals of the region.

Reuther Didn't Come

The several hundred persons, who went to the Upper Peninsula State Fairgrounds Sunday afternoon to hear Walter Reuther of Detroit, were disappointed for it was announced that the president of the United Automobile Workers was unable to come to fill the engagement.

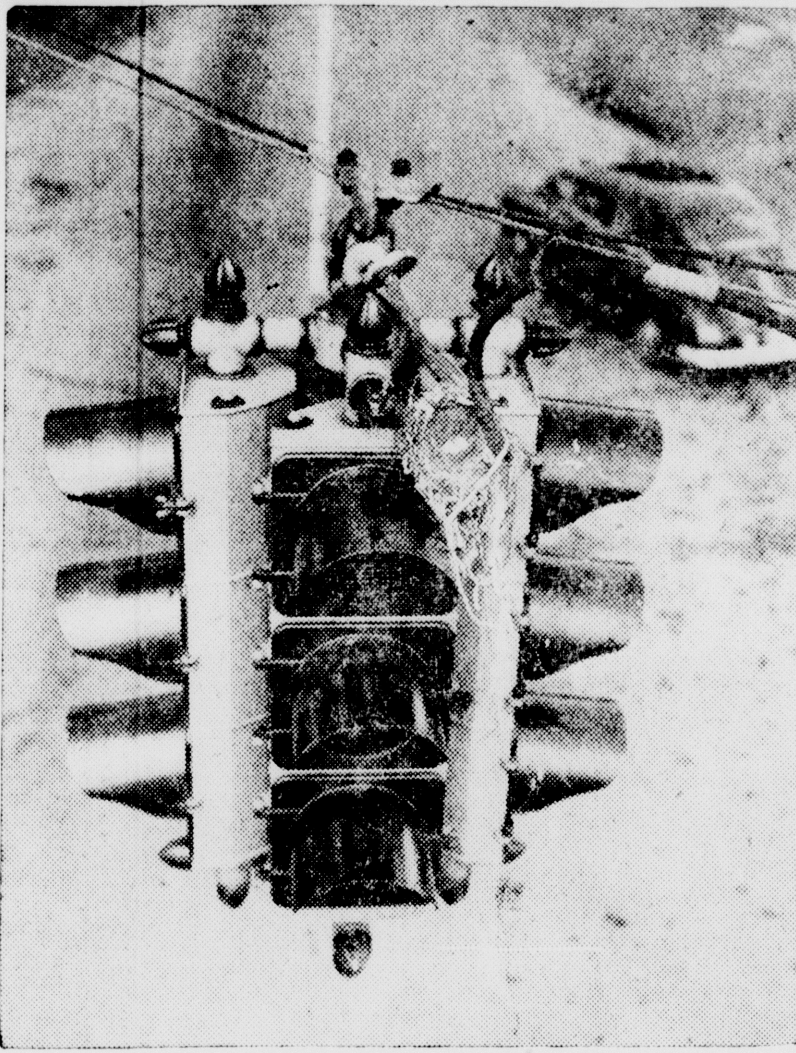

Speakers on Sunday's programs were Clinton Fair of Lansing, labor consultant on Gov. G. Mennen Williams' staff, Rep. Martha Griffith of Detroit, George Woodson of Lansing, Robert Stephens of Detroit and Charles Rogers of Muskegon.

Fair paid tribute to the late Samuel Gompers who, he said, became active in the American labor movement at a time when labor worked "from sunup to sundown and at wages less than one dollar a day."

Fair listed some of the gains labor has made in line with principles laid down by Samuel Gompers, including safer working conditions, health and accident clauses in contracts, proper grievance procedure and more lately the struggle for social security.

Labor Fights Communism. "Trade unionism doesn't exist in a vacuum," said Fair. "Samuel Gompers' work and thoughts have left a deep impression on the course the trade unions take today."

Gompers bitterly opposed Bolshevism, Fair pointed out, and labor unions are following his example in fighting Communism today. He pointed to the fight that Walter Reuther has made to eliminate Communists from UAW-CIO ranks.

Farmers Will Come On Tour

Northwest Leaders Here On Tuesday

Thirty-five farmers from the nation's Northwest region who are touring the agricultural states in a study of farm management will visit Delta county briefly, arriving in Escanaba Tuesday night, according to J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent.

Wednesday morning Agent Heirman will take the farmers on a two-hour trip to Flat Rock and Cornell. This is all the time permitted them in this county, since their schedule requires them to be in Menominee by 11 a. m. Wednesday.

The Upper Peninsula portion of the tour started in the Copper Country and carried them eastward to Michigan State College experiment station at Chatham, thence south to Delta county and to Menominee.

Their trip will end at Fargo, N. D., and visiting farms in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Cement was extensively used in ancient times, but the knowledge was lost during the Middle Ages. Modern Portland cement did not appear until 1824.

Potter Assails Cuts In Tariff

Urges Protection For U. S. Labor

Further tariff reductions to permit the heavy flow of foreign-made goods into the United States would imperil the security of the American workingman, Rep. Charles E. Potter predicted in a talk at the Samuel Gompers Centennial celebration Saturday evening.

"The tariff has been reduced three times since the end of the war," the Eleventh Michigan district congressman said. "I don't believe in a tariff for revenue purposes only, but I do believe in imposing duties on goods produced by forced or cheap labor abroad as a means of protecting American labor."

Leather Gloves 88 Cents

Rep. Potter said it would be impossible to maintain our high standard of living if the products of American labor are to compete with a flood of cheap foreign goods.

In a personal investigation, he said he learned that a pair of leather gloves, made in Czechoslovakia, sold at retail in Washington, D. C., at 88 cents. An American manufacturer, he said, told him a similar pair of American-made gloves would have to retail at 83.

The need for protection for Michigan's copper mining industry was cited by Rep. Potter. He said that Chilean copper is being imported in this country at a price cheaper than the cost of mining it in this country.

Steelworker Speaks

Lloyd Hill of Iron River, field representative of the United Steelworkers-CIO, paid tribute to Samuel Gompers and the other co-workers of his day "who fought to build the labor movement in America."

Economics and politics go hand in hand, Hill declared, in urging workers to assume an active role in public affairs.

"You cannot have economic freedom, which is the right to bargain with employers for better wages and working conditions, unless you have political freedom," Hill asserted.

Hill credited the wages and hours act, social security and other beneficial legislation enacted by Congress and state legislatures to the crusading efforts of labor leaders. He said labor made great strides from 1935 to the 1946 election, which he described as a turning point to the detriment of the workers. The Taft-Hartley act, which followed the 1946 election, he charged "was created in the minds of big business for the benefit of big business, and to whip you on the picket line."

Fears More Jobless

Hill added that the profits of the large corporations of the country are at the highest of any time in their history, but unemployment is growing in the country.

"Unless the management of big business, and I don't mean small business for it has troubles of its own, plows back its profits in the form of better wages and more jobs, there will be ten million unemployed within a few years," Hill continued. "The workers now are not making enough money to buy back the goods they're producing."

Garden

GARDEN—Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fisher attended funeral services for Mr. Fisher's grandfather at Manistique Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Heafley, daughter Margaret and sons David and John returned to their home in Sault Ste. Marie Friday. Kathryn Ann remained here to be guest of Marie Ouradnik for a week.

Death Penalty Becomes Issue For Voters Of Michigan To Decide

AS AN AFTERMATH to the brutal slaying of a Detroit man and the rape of his wife, Detroit newspapers are crusading for a return to capital punishment in Michigan. Impetus to the campaign was provided by the killer who, upon his arrest, indicated satisfaction that Michigan would not execute him for his crime and that the worst punishment that could legally be imposed upon him in this state is life imprisonment.

Spurred by the Detroit newspaper campaign, metropolitan residents are clipping coupons published in the papers and are flooding the office of Speaker Victor Knox with a demand that a referendum be conducted on the death penalty issue.

Despite the flood of coupons being forwarded to the speaker's office, there is no substantial basis for indication that the people of Michigan are ready to change their mind on the capital punishment issue. The voters of the state rejected a capital punishment proposal by referendum 19 years ago. Sufficient time has elapsed since then, however, to provide reasonable support to those who have advocated the death penalty. Because of that, it is within the public interest to present the issue to the voters by referendum once again.

The capital punishment issue is certain to be the subject of considerable discussion in the next legislature and it is well that the matter be disposed of by letting the people decide whether they want to return to capital punishment for murderers.

Michigan, incidentally, was the first state in the union to abolish the death penalty. The execution of murderers has not been a deterrent to crimes to violence in any state that has a capital punishment law nor does the record in Michigan and other non-capital punishment states support the argument that the lack of the death penalty encourages murder. The only valid argument for the death penalty is the creed of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, and the contention that society should not support a convicted murderer for the rest of his natural life.

If Michigan returns to the death penalty, it will be because of vengeance and not because capital punishment serves as a deterrent to murderers.

Governor's Meeting Serves A Useful Purpose

IN THE PAST 12 years, the annual governors' conference and the permanent organization behind it have risen in stature until they now contribute markedly to the growth of responsible government in America.

As was shown in the 42nd meeting just concluded at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the governors' conference is no mere social assembly highlighted by a few speeches from top national figures.

Around four-fifths of the nation's governors appear each year. They wage eagerly into a fat agenda of problems common to most of the states. Carefully conceived solutions are offered and discussed. Most important, the governors meet each other, get on a first-name basis, talk over their mutual difficulties informally in hotel lobbies and dining rooms. Their work is earnest, and largely above politics.

With the ice thus broken, the governors find it easy when they return home to pick up the telephone and call one another to confer on some governmental wrinkle that may develop.

This is not to say, of course, that no political overtones creep into the conferences. Quite the reverse: they have become effective sounding boards for governors eyeing the presidency. While politics is naturally incidental to conference purpose, that by-product aspect affords the people some useful clues when they start measuring candidates.

The largely unsung hero of the conferences is Frank Bane, executive head of the Council of State Governments which sponsors them. He not only manages the meetings; he steers the council's permanent staff in the same sort of liaison work among the states that the governors achieve in their face-to-face sessions.

Every state is aided in drawing on the experience of every other. Uniformity in divorce, tax, highway traffic and other laws is sought, and is slowly being achieved. All kinds of advisory reports are prepared. The result is a steadily rising level of administrative competence in state government.

If it be true that Washington has now taken too much power to itself, at the expense of state and local units, then this council would seem to provide the best possible focus for forces pulling the other way. Many governors see it as the prime agency through which they can work to keep as much government as possible at the grass roots level.

Surely democracy as a theory is promoted when it is made to work well on the local and regional scene, where things happen in fact and not just on paper.

Seen But Not Touched

DISTURBED because East Berliners can wander into the city's western zones and see attractive goods for sale in shop windows, the Soviet-run stores of the eastern section have hit on a solution.

They are now displaying their own attractive array of consumer items in the windows. There's only one hitch—you can't buy the stuff. Apparently it's just laid out to prove that the Communists can at least make it, even if not in sufficient volume to sell.

During the recent heralded German Red youth rally in Berlin, this little scheme had a try-out. The government put some sausages out on loan to the shops, and they were promptly strung.

Later, after the kids had dispersed, the Communist officials called in their loan. The strings of sausages disappeared, presumably returning to the Government Sausage Reserve, or wherever the Reds keep such treasures.

Oversleeper

Life involves a lot of worries and it's far from any lark, since a guy has got to rush around from dawn till after dark. He must hurry here and hurry there without a minute's rest, so he's very sure that bedtime is the time he likes the best. He's so ready for his slumber that he counts no leapin' sheep, but when morning comes he learns a man should never oversleep.

Now before he crawls between the sheets, his loud alarm he sets, but on second thought, he cuts it off to hush its noisy threats. And he thinks he's just dozing when he awakens with a jerk, and his ticking clock informs him that he ought to be at work. Then he tries to make up minutes lost and fumbles with his shoes, but his hands are mostly thumbs and he's about to blow a fuse.

By the time he gets to shaving, he's a fellow out of breath, and with everybody brushing teeth, he's trampled 'most to death. And to cap the frantic climax, when at last he grabs his hat, it's the awful truth that overnight his auto had a flat. Thus his day's completely ruined and he can't get on the track, and his loud alarm is surely set when next he hits the sack.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

RAPID CITY, South Dakota—I came out to the Black Hills yesterday to dedicate the gigantic lighting system which now floods the majestic, granite faces of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt, carved high on the side of Mount Rushmore in this beautiful national park.

Sometimes I think it is a good thing for a Washington newspaperman, or even a Washington bureaucrat or for every American, as a matter of fact, to get away from his routine and do some thinking about our founding fathers and the great goals they set for us to carry out.

The four patriots whose faces are carved on this mountain side were all crusaders and, in a sense, dangerous revolutionaries. In fact, Washington and Jefferson were considered so dangerous that the crowned heads of Europe tried desperately—even as late as the Emperor Maximilian during our Civil War—to defeat the "subversive" democracy left in their wake.

Lincoln was another revolutionary, considered so dangerous by the South that it rebelled. While Teddy Roosevelt's "dangerous" campaign against big business caused the corporations of his day to heap more abuse on his head than that heaped on the head of another Roosevelt.

Nevertheless, these men set a creed of government and a goal for human living which has surpassed anything in the world today. They tried to take the basic principles of Christianity and apply them to the governing of peoples. Christ left to the world the doctrine of the dignity of man. The founding fathers, building in a new, clean world, tried to carry that doctrine out. The philosophy which Jefferson laid down for the guidance and protection of the individual man in the society of men was carried further by Lincoln's crusade to make all men free and equal.

How well we of this generation have succeeded in living up to their great goals will be for others to judge, but at least I think we have tried.

THE AGE OF FEAR

However, in this year 1950, halfway through this modern and amazing century, we are in real danger of bogging down in an "age of fear."

Faced with the awful knowledge that others have the atomic bomb, faced with the fear of the hydrogen bomb, of bacteriological warfare, of new trans-oceanic submarines and trans-Atlantic rockets, we are in definite danger of relapsing into an age of fear, an age when we do not go forward because we are paralyzed with fright.

The symptoms of fear have been all too apparent in recent months—almost ever since President Truman announced that Russia had the atomic bomb. It is a well-known fact that fear causes paralysis and lack of decision. When injected into the human body it causes nausea and poison. Injected into the body politic, it has the same effect.

Perhaps that is why we have been so busy looking under state department beds and worrying about five-year-old mistakes that we fail to look ahead to prevent the mistakes of the future.

Washington and Jefferson had a lot more excuse to succumb to fear than we. They were operating 13 weak and struggling colonies, surrounded by big and avaricious monarchies. But they were so busy pioneering, so busy pushing on to new frontiers, that they didn't have time to be afraid.

Yet we, the most powerful nation in the world, are so busy concentrating on armed defense that either we don't have time, or are too paralyzed with fear to take the offensive.

IDEAS, NO BULLETS

The Communists today are not fighting with bodies or bullets, but with ideas and men's minds. Bodies and bullets, artillery and airplanes are expensive. Ideas are cheap; though it takes ingenuity, perseverance and courage to use them.

We have sent billions in arms, food and material to Europe and the Orient; but we have not accompanied them with ideas. In most cases we have not even stamped them with a mark to let it be known they came from the American people. Sometimes we have stamped them with the initials "UNRRA" or "JRC," but few people know what those initials mean.

Almost never have we spelled out the fact: "These gifts come to you from folks just like you in Wichita, Wenatchee and Waukegan."

One trouble with us—and our allies—is that our arms program leaves no alternative but war. Adequate arms are necessary. But piling arms on top of more arms, with no other objective or alternative in sight, makes people lose hope. They know this leads to war.

Thus, long before the war comes, they are paralyzed with discouragement and fear.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

READERS' CORNER

California, Kentucky: Here's a poser for you. Why do we speak of living ON an island when we also speak of living IN the Philippine Islands?—Mrs. A. P. P.

Answer: In American usage one lives on an island, on a street, or avenue. But one lives in a subdivision, town, city or country. The Philippine Islands (Philippines) is a country.

Mr. Vernon: In my dictionary, the word "meticulous" is defined as "timid." But I have always understood the word to mean "scrupulously neat."—J. J. G.

Answer: Meticulous is from the Latin "meticulosus," "fearful." But that meaning for the English word has long been obsolete. Meticulous now means, "extremely careful of small details; unduly concerned about unimportant matters; so scrupulous as to be finical." Thus, the word applies not only to neatness, but also to any other affair, such as accuracy, speech, manners, honesty.

Two such giants, Consolidated Edison Co. of New York and Cleveland Illuminating Co., are each planning plants which may ultimately vie for the "largest in the world" title. Each plant will be capable of supplying the electricity needs of a city of 1,625,000.

Electricity Producers Raise Sights Again As Demand Continues To Rise

By ROBERT H. SELTZITZ
Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—America's electricity makers are betting more billions that the nation's record thirst for electric power will keep on growing.

When the war ended, "juice" men expected to spend about $6 billion through 1950 for expanding output. Then a year ago they revised their figures upward to $10 billion for new plant through 1951. Now they're raising their sights again.

New target: $14 billion worth of generators, power lines, buildings and other equipment to be bought by 1954 to meet a demand that's still growing at the fastest pace in the industry's 70-year history.

Six Million New Customers
Thus far in their big expansion program, electric companies have spent about $7 billion—so another $7 billion expenditure is ahead between now and 1954. They have added six million new customers to the 30 million they were serving at the war's end. Electricity consumption, as measured by the industry's kilowatt-hour yardstick, has leaped from 190 billion kilowatt-hours in 1945 to 291 billion today.

Industry experts, here at the 16th annual convention of their trade association, the Edison Electric Institute, say that's only the beginning.

For example, Philip Sporn, president of big American Gas & Electric Co., thinks that present rate of growth in demand will continue for at least five more years. For his own system, which serves seven Midwestern states and ranks as the nation's fourth largest, he foresees a doubling by 1962 of the peak electricity output reached early this year.

Mr. Calder's Optimism
Even more optimistic is Curtis E. Calder, chairman of Electric Bond & Share Co. He notes growing uses for electric power in air conditioning, electric cooking, food freezers, clothes dryers, television, electric blankets, and water heaters. Such new uses alone, he claims, add up to a potential market twice as large as present electricity sales.

Chief spokesman for the industry, Edison Electric Institute President Elmer L. Lindseth, took a deep look into the crystal ball and forecast that the industry will triple in size over the next two decades.

He predicted that the nation's electric companies will have plants worth $65 billion by 1970. Present ones are valued at about $22 billion and, he added, consumers will be burning juice in quantities that make even ciphers harden utility men's faces. Consumption, said Mr. Lindseth, will hit one trillion kilowatt-hours in 1970, compared with the present 291 billion.

Rank-and-File Concerns
Sipping scotch and water in off-the-record hotel room sessions, the rank-and-file of utility magnates back up the rosy predictions from the convention platform. They note that electric output has doubled in every decade of the industry's history—except during the big depression years.

Rank-and-file also point to big expansion programs on the drafting boards of some of the giants of the industry.

Two such giants, Consolidated Edison Co. of New York and Cleveland Illuminating Co., are each planning plants which may ultimately vie for the "largest in the world" title. Each plant will be capable of supplying the electricity needs of a city of 1,625,000.

homes.
Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., the nation's second largest utility system in sales of electricity, estimates it will have to build at least 850,000 kilowatts of new generating capacity between 1952 and 1960 to keep pace with the expected increase in demand in its service area in upper New York state. This compares with a total of 700,000 kilowatts of new capacity to be installed by the system between 1946 and 1952.

Other Expansions
Among other major utility companies planning long-range expansion programs is Union Electric Co. of Missouri. Union expects to have spent $400 million under its 15-year construction program by the time it is completed in 1960.

Philadelphia Electric Co., the nation's sixth largest utility, has plans that mean total spending of $300 million between 1949 and 1954 to double its 1939 generating capacity. Illinois Power Co. is talking about a big new station in its northern division to be completed in 1953 or 1954. Southern California Edison Co., which spent $219 million for new plant from 1946 to 1949, expects to spend another $110 million in 1950 and 1951.

Manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment, who by and large get few orders from electric utility customers last year, report a pickup in such business.

Westinghouse Electric Corp., for example, states that "new orders for generating equipment, both steam and hydro-electric, are coming in faster than at this time last year." The company says that the backlog of orders at its South Philadelphia turbine plant is nearly 40% above what they were the first of the year. About 65% of the equipment has been ordered by private companies, the rest by the government, Westinghouse reports.

Proprietor of Gloom
While most of the industry is actively planning for long-range expansion, a small but vocal minority feels that caution is called for. One spokesman for this group warns that "our industry one of these days will wake up to the fact that it has power coming out of its ears. Many companies will be overloaded with a lot of generating equipment, built during times of high prices, lying idle, and hunting for work to do."

These utility men point to a recent survey of the Edison Institute which showed that the industry's generating capacity is increasing at the rate of 52% for the 1943-1953 period, while peak demand is increasing at only a 37% rate. According to the E.E.I. survey, the industry's margin of reserve generating capacity over anticipated peak demands, which amounted to a scant 3.4% in 1947, will reach 15.9% by the end of this year and 19% by 1952.

Expansion-minded utility men admit they're not happy about all aspects of their boom. One big worry is that they are laying out huge amounts for new equipment in times of record costs.

But one notes: "It's axiomatic in our industry that we can't afford to be caught short of power. When someone presses the switch, the electricity has to be there. But even more important, in these days of increasing government encroachment in the power business, we just can't leave a vacuum for the further spread of government power."

Equipment More Efficient
Today's high construction costs are partly offset by the greatly increased efficiency of modern generating equipment. One major utility, for example, estimates that a new 100,000 kilowatt steam generator, costing $12 million, will save $801,000 annually in fuel costs compared with a similar generator installed as recently as 1945. The fuel saving alone will cover over 50% of the annual fixed carrying charges for the new unit, the company calculates.

Thus far in 1950, power sales are fulfilling the hopes of the optimists. Latest monthly figures show residential sales of electricity are running 14.9% ahead of a year ago, while commercial sales are up 7.2% and industrial sales are 4.6% higher than a year ago. Only last December, industrial sales were 3.7% under the previous year's level.

Residential customers, who account for 37% of total revenues, and 23% of electric sales volume, are considered the backbone of the industry because of the stability of this load in good times as well as bad. Industrial sales, on the other hand, account for 29% of sales volume and 27% of revenues. Utilities look on industrial sales as their best index to their profit prosperity. Industrial sales drop quickly in times of recession; it takes about two years for hard times to show up in home sales of juice, utility men say.

Wants Security

To the Editor:

I noticed that the Government is going to give millions of pounds of butter to the European needy since the American relief agencies aren't taking it fast enough.

That seems rather ironic to me, as I work, but we can't afford butter and have had to use oleo for years. I'm sure we aren't the only ones. I'll bet there are many public institutions in this country serving oleo, or perhaps not even that, to our own unfortunate.

I don't begrudge aid to Europe's needy, for they've had a rough time. I do resent our farm subsidy program, which makes us pay high prices at the stores so the farmer can be guaranteed high prices. We pay double—first in taxes, then in prices.

Why should the farmers be guaranteed high incomes? The rest of us don't enjoy security like that. First the Government paid them not to raise crops, and now guarantees them high prices for crops which the Government hides away, or burns. All this goes on while the average citizen is wracking his brain trying to make ends meet while paying exorbitant prices for commodities.

It is high time the Government started worrying about the rest of us for a change.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

SPECIAL INVITATION—In a column a couple days ago concerning the Delta County Historical Society and its scheduled meeting July 23 at Bark River, the question was asked:

Does anyone know the whereabouts of the former Della Lindquist, one of the first teachers in the Bark River school?

And within a day the answer was forthcoming from Mrs. Hugo Lilliquist of Escanaba.

Miss Lindquist is now Mrs. Quincy McBride, a widow, living in Berkeley, California. She is a cousin of Mrs. Lilliquist. The family came originally to Delta county from Ephraim, Door county, Wisconsin.

The committee arranging the Bark River meeting of the Historical Society will send Mrs. McBride a special invitation to attend the program there on July 23.

The SLOWER PACE—Back in the days when Mrs. McBride, then Miss Lindquist, taught school at Bark River, life went at a slower but very satisfying pace.

Frank Romain of Bark River, who was one of Mrs. McBride's school students, vouches for that.

"The young folks had to depend on each other for good times. We made our own fun," Frank explained. "The church was a central place for gatherings of young people and we enjoyed ourselves there."

The early days may have had their hardships, but there were also compensations that escape us in this hurried age of automobiles, ulcers, and atom bombs.

RECAPTURING IT—No matter how hard we try, the "good old days" cannot be returned.

There is the opportunity, however, of borrowing some of the chores, pleasures and pastimes of those days to offset the strain of modern living.

One way is the old standby—gardening. Jim Schram of Gladstone, acting chief of the Veterans Administration office in Escanaba, tells me that gardening is his hobby.

"Now I find I can hardly wait to get home and slip into some old clothes and start work in the garden," Jim reported.

That garden is no two-bit affair. Last year he raised flowers and vegetables—the latter category including 45 bushels of potatoes!

PHILOSOPHY—There may be a reason for the mass "nervous exhaustion" of the nation.

Some of the most relaxed and happy personalities we know are those individuals who take their daily dose of physical exercise. One of these individuals is Frank Romain, Bark River pioneer, mentioned earlier in this column.

"Everybody had to work hard in those days," Frank said. "I still believe it is a good thing. Hard work never hurt anybody!"

OUT OF THE PAST—Despite the airplane, movie, radio, television and automobile, millions of people find health-giving recreation in "old-fashioned" ways.

Horseback riding, sail boating, canoeing, fishing, swimming, gardening—yes, and even golf played in its present form by the hardy Scots as early as the 12th century, hark back to the days of hard work and simple pastimes.

In everyday living there is room for at least a little time for outdoor recreation. And recreation is where you find it—whether swinging a hoe in the garden patch or a nibble on the golf course.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Calumet—The Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper company today declared a dividend of 25 cents per share, payable July 16, the board of directors has announced.

Philadelphia—The Republican platform for 1940, including a foreign policy plank attacking the Roosevelt administration's defense record, pledging an anti-war stand and aid to oppressed peoples was approved tonight by the party's resolutions committee.

Marinette—Mrs. Frank E. Noyes, wife of the publisher of the Marinette Eagle-Star, died at the family home Monday.

Escanaba—Harold Gessner and Edward Stack have returned from a trip to Chicago made in Gessner's Stinson monoplane.

Gladstone—Mrs. D. N. Kee, who is in charge of the Gladstone school census, today reported a total of 1,552 children aged 5 to 20 had been enumerated. The 1940 figure is 13 less than in 1939.

20 YEARS AGO

Vatican City—Pope Pius XI, 73, who has occupied the throne of St. Peter since February, 1922, today was reported acutely ill with bladder trouble and threatened by a possible case of uraemic poisoning.

Escanaba—Judge Judd Yelland of Escanaba will deliver the opening president's address at the annual convention of probate judges of Michigan at Sault Ste. Marie this weekend.

Sault Ste. Marie—The Herman Hanson Oil Syndicate of Muskegon has leased 8,000 acres of land near Gouletville and DeTour, and plans to lease 2,000 more. The Muskegon firm is reported negotiating with oil operators in New York City who plan to begin drilling as soon as 10,000 acres have been leased.

Escanaba—With temperatures elsewhere ranging to 102 degrees, Escanaba was about the coolest spot in the nation yesterday, with a temperature which did not go over 73 degrees in 24 hours.

Lansing—So far as is humanly possible, the Department of Conservation will not permit closing of navigable streams to the public for fishing and all conceivable means will be used to accomplish this end. George R. Hogarth, director said today. Director Hogarth said a resolution adopted by the department in June provides for lease, purchase or legislative action to maintain perpetual fishing rights for the public.

Fear Of New War Might Be Cause

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—With the forthrightness and the forcefulness that have characterized his direction of ECA, Paul Hoffman the other day hit out at the "inevitable war" psychosis. As he said in his speech to the governors at White Sulphur, to talk about an inevitable war is to play right into the hands of the masters of the Kremlin.

It lets them monopolize a peace offensive while they quote the war talk in this country as proof that we are big, bad imperialists bent on armed conquest of the world. At the same time, Hoffman pointed to another phase of the "inevitable war" mentality.

That is the effect it may be having on our economy here at home. There is reason to believe that many Americans are buying more and buying earlier than they normally would in the belief that war may prevent them from buying at all.

Highest Prosperity Level

How much this has contributed to the present boom one can only guess. But it is unquestionably a factor. Chairman Leon Keyserling of the President's Council of Economic Advisers now says that the nation is at the highest levels of postwar prosperity, exceeding the previous highs of 1948.

Hoffman told the governors that he had an automobile business in Los Angeles that experienced a few weeks ago a sudden rush of customers. In checking, Hoffman reported, it was discovered that the explanation was a rumor that the Cadillac plant had been converted to the building of tanks.

Therefore, buyers were playing it safe and getting a new car while they still could.

Recently, a letter from a reader in Iowa taxed me with representing the country as complacently accepting the inevitability of World War III. My correspondent, a substantial citizen in the community, placed the blame on the government. He cited in proof of this three reports:

1. The government was about to buy back an ammunition plant near Des Moines acquired by the John Deere company.
2. Former employees of a bomber plant at Omaha had been asked to stand by for almost immediate re-opening of the plant.
3. Other ammunition plants in the Midwest were to be reacquired by the government.

No Truth to Rumors

After an exchange of letters, my correspondent decided to investigate these reports. He found that they had very little basis in truth. The government has no interest in former ammunition plants. The notice to former employees in the bomber plant was merely routine preparation for a possible future emergency.

This would indicate that the type of rumor Hoffman referred to is widespread throughout the country. It is a phase of the boom-time atmosphere that has sent Americans on an extraordinary buying spree.

The responsibility of government for this psychology is twofold. In part it is unavoidable. Planning for the successful prosecution of war if it comes is a paramount responsibility.

Any government that failed to plan in view of the present world situation would be suicidally remiss. This means lining up former bomber-plant employees who would be available if and when the worst should happen. Some critics feel that Washington is not doing nearly half enough of this kind of planning.

Blustering Talk

On the other hand neither are the blustering statements made by such highly vocal gentlemen as Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. Johnson is given to saying that we can lick the Russians before breakfast with one hand tied behind our back. That kind of bluster serves no good purpose and it does feed the war psychosis.

In a somewhat different classification are the official statements to Congress in connection with requests for arms and economic aid to back up the administration policy of containing Communism through strength. On the theory, apparently, that the American people must be scared to death in order to get any action, these statements have often been highly alarmist in tone—the Communists will get you if you don't watch out.

It is time for all of us, both in and out of government, to learn to live as calmly as possible in a dangerous world. Security in the old complacent sense is gone forever.

To the degree that it is fanned up by unnatural and panicky buying, the boom is harmful. It can come down in a dead-stick bust. And that is playing even

Few Fires Reported In Upper Peninsula

The season's record for the lowest number of fires burned in a seven-day period since April 15 has been chalked up for the week ending June 18, according to conservation department field administration reports. Twenty-one fires were held to 29.3 acres.

The week's record was nine fires in the Upper Peninsula which burned 9.25 acres and 12 fires in the northern section of the Lower Peninsula which burned 20.05 acres. Southern Michigan had no fires for the week. The previous week's record was 20 fires with 97 acres burned.

Total number of fires in the entire state from the beginning of the 1950 fire season to June 18 was 546 with 3,954 acres burned. The 1949 record for the same period, when the fire hazard was much higher than it has been so far this year, was 1,147 fires with 18,691 acres burned.

State Boundary To Be Marked In U. P.

Concrete monuments on shores of Lakes Michigan and Superior will mark the watery dividing line between Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

Construction of the so-called "reference points" began this week under the direction of Prof. Jerry Service of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. The work will require two summers to complete.

The three states, through an interstate boundary commission, reached an agreement effective June 27, 1947 that was later ratified by act of Congress.

Two concrete markers will be placed at each reference point.

The new line through Lake Michigan beginning in the middle of the lake at a point opposite the Illinois-Wisconsin boundary on the west shore and extending north to the line through Green Bay that was fixed by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1936, straightens the former serpentine line that is the exact middle of the lake. Michigan ceded a point of land to Minnesota to simplify the Minnesota-Michigan line in Lake Superior.

The corrected boundary lines are of principal value in enforcement of laws regulating commercial fishing.

Bids On Lamprey Boat Requested

Will Be Opened In Ann Arbor Tuesday

WASHINGTON, D. C. (WNS)—Bids will be opened June 27, 1950, on the boat to be used as a laboratory in the attack on the lamprey in the Great Lakes. William F. Carbine of Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of Interior announced.

It is in the laboratory on the boat that it is hoped that some biological process will be worked out which will kill off the lamprey without harming other fish. The lamprey is without a spinal column, and it is possible that this may be of importance in the solution of the problem. The bids on the laboratory boat will be opened at Ann Arbor, Michigan. The boat is to be about 60 feet long and the specifications will call for the building and equipping of the laboratory. It will be elaborately equipped with fishing gear, fish and wildlife said.

Appointment of a graduate student at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., to look into reasons why the lamprey has not seriously affected the trout and commercial fish supply in the Finger Lakes, including Seneca and Cayuga, was announced. He is Roland Wigley of Ithaca, and he will have charge of the investigational effort in this region.

Lampreys have been in the Finger Lakes for a hundred years, Carbine said, and they are smaller than those in the Great Lakes, also those in the Great Lakes are smaller than the sea lampreys in the Atlantic Ocean. Carbine said some of the trout and other commercial fish, including black bass, taken in the Finger Lakes had scars on them resulting from attack by the lamprey. It has been stated that the commercial fish were not substantially affected by lamprey attacks in the Finger Lakes.

Contracts for electronic and electrical devices to be used in weirs in streams in the attack on the lamprey will be awarded shortly, Fish and Wildlife said.

Band Gets Set For Summer

Weekly Concerts To Begin Soon

Following a winter season of home concerts and weekly rehearsals the Manistique Municipal band, under the direction of Ferd Gotsche, is preparing for a busy summer of public appearances. The band has been bolstered the last couple weeks by many college musicians who are at home in Manistique for their summer vacations. They include Chuck Lundstrom, trumpet, Northwestern university; Van Mueller, trumpet, Central Michigan College; Ray Norberg, euphonium, Western Michigan college; and Dan Giovannini, Northwestern Michigan college, tuba.

New Equipment

Much in the line of new equipment and music has been acquired by the band recently, according to Director Gotsche. Included in the line of new equipment are a complete new set of marching folders, a new recording base horn and a new euphonium. This new equipment has been financed through the gracious support of the townspeople at the winter concerts. There is still some to be desired along this line, as the band is in the peculiar predicament of having a regular membership of 38 and possessing only 36 uniforms.

The popularity of the band in the Upper Peninsula's many summer celebrations is evidenced by the fact that the services of the organization were requested by three U. P. communities for this coming Fourth of July holiday. Among those desiring the band was Mackinac Island, where the band played two successful engagements last summer.

To Play at Homecoming

The band will take active part in Manistique's own Fourth of July Homecoming this coming weekend, adding color in both parade and concert. It will furnish music at the baseball game Sunday afternoon in full force, and Monday, a German band of band members will provide music for the street sports and children's parade.

On Tuesday, July 4, the band will be one of the many musical organizations participating in the grand parade, and will also be heard in concert before the fireworks in the evening.

The regular summer series of weekly concerts will begin as soon as a suitable evening in the week can be decided upon. These concerts will be continued throughout the summer and will give the people of Manistique ample time to hear "their band".

Kids Take To Baseball In Big Way Here

City recreation director Thor Reque has disclosed that there are upwards of 200 young men enrolled in the summer junior league baseball program. They are divided into 3 teams according to each age group is as follows:

Mites (5-10) ..... 89
Midgets (11-13) ..... 74
Jr. Cards (14-17) ..... 32

The Junior Cardinals will begin play this coming week with a practice game against the Gulliver Juniors on Tuesday. The game will begin at 6:30 at the Fairgrounds diamond. On Wednesday at 4 o'clock the Juniors will play host to the Escanaba team, also at the Fairgrounds.

The increased enrollment in the baseball program has necessitated the use of the 3 fairgrounds diamonds on an all day basis. Sandlot baseball has certainly come into its own in Manistique's recreation program.

Reformed Irish Bride May Soon Join Ex-GI Spouse In Michigan

WASHINGTON —(P)—Mrs. Ann Feikema, Irish war bride of a Michigan GI, soon will be able to join the husband who "completely reformed" her.

The last barrier to her entry to this country came down when President Truman signed a bill authorizing admittance of the young woman previously kept out because of convictions on crimes involving moral turpitude.

Harold J. Feikema of Rockford, Mich., had staged a long battle to convince officials in Washington that his wife was the victim of bad environment and unfortunate circumstances and should be permitted to come here like other war brides.

Feikema, who served four years overseas, was married to the former Ann Moore in Belfast in 1945. Since the marriage, the American consul at Belfast wrote to officials here, Mrs. Feikema apparently "has completely reformed, largely through the influence of her husband."

Establishment of a dictatorship in Columbia last year ended an unbroken half-century of constitutional government in that country, says the Book of Knowledge year book.

City Receives Audit Report

Several Changes Are Recommended

Copies of the annual audit of the city's financial affairs have been received here from the John D. Morrison and Company, Marquette, certified public accountants, and are available for inspection at the office of City Manager H. J. Henriksen.

Detailed analyses of all city funds are contained in the record. Several recommendations in the handling of revenues and expenditures were made by the firm. They suggested that "accounting, budgeting and reporting procedures could be improved by discontinuing the separate fund accounts (in various divisions) and re-aligning the revenue and expenditure accounts in a manner similar to that used in our report."

The auditors recommended that several thousand dollars in delinquent light and water accounts considered uncollectable because the debtors cannot be located should be reviewed by the commission with a view to charging them off as bad accounts.

Traffic Safety Being Stressed

Keep Cars Under Full Control, Chief Urges

The faster you drive, the longer it takes—to stop, that is!

Good drivers know that the higher the speed the more distance required to stop, according to Chief of Police Torval Kallerson.

The question, Chief Kallerson said Saturday, is: Do you know how much distance is required to recognize the need to stop, apply the brakes and come to a full stop at any given speed. And, more important, do you always drive with a full realization that you must be able to stop in an emergency?

"We'd all be safer drivers," Chief Kallerson said, "if we'd remember three things: the driver has to see and recognize the need to stop before he can start stopping. After he does that, there is a half second or more interval called 'reaction time' before he is actually doing the third thing, putting on the brakes. All this time—until the brakes finally stop the car—the car is moving toward that thing which the driver doesn't want to hit."

Here are figures from the National Safety Council on how long it takes an average driver to see an emergency, react, and stop an average car:

At 20 miles an hour—43 feet (including 22 feet of reaction time).

At 30 miles an hour—80 feet

Ladies Day Golf Pairings Announced

(including 33 feet of reaction time).

At 40 miles an hour—128 feet (44 feet of reaction time).

At 50 miles an hour—186 feet (55 feet of reaction time).

"You see," said Chief Kallerson, "the faster you go the longer it takes."

Safer speeds are the goal of the Michigan State Safety commission's program this month, a part of Gladstone's continuing traffic safety program.

Bears Toss Game Away In Ninth; Lose, 6 To 5

The Escanaba Bears would like to think they weren't alibing Monday when they said they might have won their Sunday Rainbow league ball game against Diorite—they lost, 6-5—if it hadn't been for an injury.

Going into the ninth inning with the score tied at four all, the Bears took the lead on Bob Dufour's second consecutive home run.

But they lost the game in the last half of the ninth. In the seventh, Ronnie Sedenquist, regular catcher, was struck in the back with a pitched ball and taken to the Ishpeming hospital.

There Goes Game

Without a substitute catcher, the Bears moved Dean Bailey, second baseman, behind the plate and pulled Dufour in from the outfield to play at second. Playing in unfamiliar positions, Bailey and Dufour contributed errors that led to the Bears defeat.

In the ninth, Russ Hiltunen relieved Joe Rademacher, who had been worn down by the heat. Hiltunen struck out Hill for the first out of the ninth.

Then he got Howe on strikes but Bailey dropped the third strike and Howe was safe at first. That started things.

Trauma and L. Ogea got singles, scoring Howe. Then Paasala hit a potential double play ball but Dufour elected to try for Trauma at the plate and threw the ball wild. Trauma scoring the winning run.

Diorite . . . 003 000 012—6 9 3

Action Starts At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON—(AP)—The cream of all the world's amateur tennis players step onto the gleaming green lawns of Wimbledon today in a two-week scramble for the time honored British championships.

The grind will be a severe test for the two pre-tournament favorites for the men's singles crown, top-seeded Frank Sedgman of Australia, and Billy Talbot, 31-year-old New Yorker who is seeded No. 2.

Talbot is making his first appearance in the all-England championship.

Ladies day, combining tennis and fashion competition, is tomorrow. The titleholders are, respectively, Louise Brough and Gertrude (Gorgeous Gussie) Moran.

Gussie's leading rival has not been nominated, but all eyes are centered speculatively on Nancy Chaffee, another captivating California Miss with a flair for fancy tennis duds.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Note to Charlie Clapp or Lendy Davis:

If you can get Charlie Forsythe or John Bos to admit it, the MHSAA has increased the bottom limit for class C next year. It will be 150 instead of 125 students as it is now.

The association also will include bowling among sports for which high school athletes become ineligible if they accept prizes.

As usual, the association has been hush-hush on this for some unknown reason.

We understand via lower Michigan grapevine that these two changes were adopted at the last meeting of the athletic council.

Raising of class C lower limits, we understand, was taken after council members had tabled the idea, then slept on it and changed its mind. Or had it changed.

Crystal Falls will have a new football coach next fall. He is George Rehnstrand of Superior, Wis.

Rehnstrand played varsity football and basketball for three seasons at Superior State Teachers college. He taught at Hayward, Wis., for a year and recently got his master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Rehnstrand succeeds Robert Nichols of Negaunee, who has resigned.

Elmer Swanson shot a 34 for nine holes and 71 for 18 recently at the Escanaba golf club.

Eddie Olds, former Northern Michigan college star, has been named coach of the north squad of the annual U. P. All Star high school game at Negaunee.

Jim Moreau, Niagara junior baseball pitcher, recently tossed two no-hit, no-run games in a row.

Lee Goodney, former Ishpeming high school and Northern Michigan star, has been named recreational director for Romulus township schools near Detroit.

Honey Joan VanderVoort of East Lansing has been named girls' physical education instructor at Menominee. State line fans will remember her father, Eddie VanderVoort, who coached Menominee to an 18-0 victory over Marinette after the Marines had won the famed classic nine years in a row. VanderVoort, former University of Michigan lineman, runs a big sporting goods store in Lansing.

White Supremacy

It's A Big Laugh As Negroes Win But Lose

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Negroes in general and Morgan State in particular proved over the week-end they are the best short distance runners in the United States.

But they miss out representing their country on a tour of South Africa.

The National Amateur Athletic union was supposed to pick the teams for five overseas tours this summer on the basis of performances in the national championships Friday and Saturday at the University of Maryland.

The nine going to South Africa Aug. 25 are all white. That country is split over racial issues and the AAU for that reason reportedly passed over Negro athletes for the trip.

Yet Negroes won all the flat running championships from 100 to 800 meters. Three of them, Arthur Bragg in the 100, Bob Tyler in the 200 and George Rhoden in the 400, attend Morgan State in Baltimore. That's one of the outstanding performances of all time by one school in the nationals.

Mal Whitfield, another Negro, defended his 800 championship.

Tyler and Bill Brown, another Morgan Stater who was second in the 800 will go to Norway July 2 and Bragg and Whitfield will be on the team leaving for Great Britain July 29. Jim Golliday, a Chicago high school Negro, will be on the squad leaving for Sweden early in August.

Jim Fuchs of Yale got his name in the record books two more times yesterday after winning the national 16-pound shot put championship Saturday. He tossed the 12-pound shot 64 feet, 3 1/2 inches and the 8-pound 80 feet, 2 1/4 inches for American records.

Fortune Gordien of the San Francisco Olympic club followed up his national AAU discus championship with a record. He sailed the discus for a total of 273 feet, 4 inches in tosses with both right and left hand to break a record set in 1912.

Dick Attlesley, of Southern Cal, currently the fastest high hurdler in the world, did the 100 meter hurdles in 13.6 seconds, the fastest ever recorded. He also had a 13.5 time for the 120 yard hurdles up for recognition as a world mark.

When adding machines had cooled down, it was disclosed that Groos had fallen 23-2.

The Delta county boys got their two runs in the sixth inning but that was over Gwinn had run up a 16-0 lead.

Line score:
Groos . . . 000 002 000—2 6 7
Gwinn . . . 200 861 24x—23 23 2
Brunet, Sturdy and Brown, Hulet.

Trombly and Summerville.

Groos Trounced By Gwinn, 23-2

GWINN—A hapless Groos team had the misfortune of playing the unbeaten Gwinn team of the northern division of the Rainbow league here Sunday.

When adding machines had cooled down, it was disclosed that Groos had fallen 23-2.

The Delta county boys got their two runs in the sixth inning but that was over Gwinn had run up a 16-0 lead.

Line score:

Groos . . . 000 002 000—2 6 7
Gwinn . . . 200 861 24x—23 23 2
Brunet, Sturdy and Brown, Hulet.

Nahma Blanks Rock By 9 to 0

NAHMA—Rock got its usual Sunday shutout—in reverse again. They were blanked, 9-0, on four hits here Sunday by Nahma in a Bay de Noc league game.

Besides holding Rock to four hits, Schafer, Nahma hurler, struck out 11.

Ken LaVigne and Dick LaBrasseur of Nahma each got two hits.

Nahma got only eight hits off Jokela, Rock hurler, but Rock made seven errors to add to the Nahma scores.

WINS 100 MILE RACE

LANGHORNE, Pa.—(AP)—Jack McGrath, South Pasadena, Calif., won the 100-mile national big car racing championship at the one-mile Langhorne speedway in 1 hour 7 minutes 47.01 seconds.

More than 18,000 saw McGrath virtually coast to victory yesterday after taking over the lead from Duke Nalon, Chicago, on the 94th lap when Nalon ran out of gas.

TOP MAN—Although he stands only five feet nine and weighs no more than 165 pounds, scouts and opposing coaches call Johnny Biskup the best catcher in college baseball. The youngster batted .369 this spring, will play professionally after another season at Ohio University.

Cubs Wallop Chatham, 24-3

Escanaba Cubs strengthened their lead in the Waubunge league here Sunday by walloping an inept Chatham team, 24-3, in an uninteresting ball game.

Chatham drew blood in the first inning with one run but Escanaba came back with five in their half of the first, added four in the second and nine in the fourth to coast in easily.

Tom Schwalbach got a double and two singles in four trips, Pete Kutches got a single, double and triple in five and Jim Nyquist banged out two doubles.

Two Chatham pitchers walked 15 Escanaba batters and the Cubs had 15 left on bases despite their 24 runs.

Fred Boddy, Jr., Dick Whitney and Jack Chriske held Chatham to three hits.

Summary:
Cubs . . . 540 911 04x—24 12 4
Chatham . . . 100 200 00x—3 3 3
Boddy, Whitney, Chriske and Nyquist.

Highland Trounces Norway, 58 to 26

With Ray Hirm shooting a low 76, the Highland golf club trounced Oak Crest of Norway Sunday, 58 to 26, to avenge a defeat by the Norway crew earlier in the year.

Vial Smith was second low with 79.

Highland will play at Menominee North Shore club July 9.

Emil Larson and Fred Hirm, sr., Gunnar Nelson and Con Finstrom, L. Olson and B. Barnhart, C. E. Johnson and Geo. Mikovich, George Christie and Joe Kroll, Earl Brown and E. LaFresca, L. Beck and Geo. Berglund, R. Laby and L. Morin, H. Blanshan and F. La Branche, D. Siviland and A. Martin.

Demaree, 38, is widely known and should be ranked heads above the company he is keeping in the semi-finals.

In the past, this tourney has been Demaree's jinx. Twice he has reached the semi-finals only to be beaten each time by Ben Hogan, who went on to win.

Picard advanced by trouncing heavily favored Johnny Palmer, the 1949 runner-up, 10 and 8 in yesterday's 36 hole quarterfinal session.

Williams fought off a closing round rally to whip slim Dave Douglas of Wilmington, Del., 1-up. Demaree came home in the last 18 hole stretch to oust slender Ray Gafford of Dallas 5 and 4. Harper cinched a 1-up surprising win over Lloyd Mangrum, the "peoples' choice" with a hot putter.

The Delta Hardware girls team divided two out-of-town softball games Sunday. At Marquette, they lost a tough one 3-1, with Gail Boucher pitching. In the afternoon, they defeated a triple play as they defeated Negaunee 4-1, behind the pitching of Agnes Baribeau.

trick in the nightcap. In the only Saturday night game scheduled Flint beat Charleston 12 to 2.

19 Errors Mark Fayette Loss

FAYETTE—It was a comedy of errors here Sunday as Fayette was trounced by Cornell, 12-5, in a Bay de Noc league game.

Fayette dropped fly balls, muffed grounders, threw wild—in all, they committed 13 errors. Cornell was only a little less butterfingering—making six errors.

Vic Pizzala, Fayette pitcher, and Russ Backlund, Cornell right-fielder, slammed home runs.

Fayette . . . 002 000 201—5 11 13

Cooks Trounces Perkins By 14-5

PERKINS—Cooks, three-times champion of the Bay de Noc league, played like champions here Sunday as they banged out a 14-5 victory over Perkins.

Gay Swagart, Cooks catcher, got four hits in four trips to the plate and Bert Lund, first baseman, batted .369 this spring, will play professionally after another season at Ohio University.

Joe Halvorson, Cooks hurler, held Perkins' 11 hits pretty well scattered.

Cooks entertains Gladstone Redskins in a twilight league game Wednesday night at 6:30 and goes to Garden Sunday.

Noor Defeats Citation And Sets Record

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Noor, the invincible Irisher, is the new "wonder horse" of thoroughbred racing.

The five year old son of Nasrullah dispelled any doubt as to his greatness Saturday at Golden Gate fields when he outran Citation for the fourth time in a row.

This one was the more convincing because, for the first time, he conceded weight, instead of accepting it, from the kingpin of the Calumet farm. Noor carried 127 pounds to 126 for Citation and won going away by three lengths in the mile and one quarter $50,000 added Golden Gate handicap.

He set a new world record of 1:58 1-5, lopping 1 3-5 seconds off the old time.

Two worlds' records within seven racing days give Noor undisputed membership in the equine hall of fame. Both times Noor hung decisions on Citation and both times Citation himself bettered the former world record.

It's Old Timers In PGA Windup

Youngsters Fall By Wayside

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—The $40,000 national PGA golf tournament is making a force of the old axiom that youth must be served.

There are no youngsters (in the 20-year-old classifications) left in the meet today. Usually the six-day tortuous grind sends the old-timers to sipping tall ones on the veranda.

This 1950 meet on the long 7,032 yard Scioto country club course has become, generally, a race of darkhorses—older ones.

Into the 36-hole semi-finals go such aged in the wood contestants as Henry Picard, responding like an old fire horse, Henry Williams, Jr., of Secane, Pa.; Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and rain-bowhued Jimmy Demaret.

Demaret, 38, is widely known and should be ranked heads above the company he is keeping in the semi-finals.

In the past, this tourney has been Demaret's jinx. Twice he has reached the semi-finals only to be beaten each time by Ben Hogan, who went on to win.

Picard advanced by trouncing heavily favored Johnny Palmer, the 1949 runner-up, 10 and 8 in yesterday's 36 hole quarterfinal session.

Williams fought off a closing round rally to whip slim Dave Douglas of Wilmington, Del., 1-up. Demaree came home in the last 18 hole stretch to oust slender Ray Gafford of Dallas 5 and 4.

Harper cinched a 1-up surprising win over Lloyd Mangrum, the "peoples' choice" with a hot putter.

The Delta Hardware girls team divided two out-of-town softball games Sunday. At Marquette, they lost a tough one 3-1, with Gail Boucher pitching. In the afternoon, they defeated a triple play as they defeated Negaunee 4-1, behind the pitching of Agnes Baribeau.

Hoot Evers Slams Homer As Tigers, Yanks Split

DETROIT—(AP)—Hoot Evers' big bat boomed a merry tune over the weekend as the Detroit Tigers turned back the onrushing New York Yankees and stretched their American league lead to three games.

Evers broke up Friday night's slugging duel with a two-run homer in the last of the ninth to give the Tigers the opener 10-9.

He swung into action again at Briggs stadium yesterday after the Yankees won the opener of a doubleheader by routing Hal Newhouse before the season's biggest turnout—55,628 fans.

The Tiger left fielder tripled in the opening inning to drive in two runs. He scored a minute later on a Johnny Groth single and Detroit had a 3-0 lead.

Evers put his hitting shoes on again in the eighth inning after the Yankees tied the score at 3-all on Tommy Henrich's pinchhit home run in that inning.

Newhouse Chased After George Kell walked and Vic Wertz singled, Evers pounced on Vic Raschi's 1-1 pitch for a homer into the left field stands that gave Detroit a 6-3 win and a split in the important doubleheader. It was his 13th homer.

Yankee slugger wrote the story of the first game yesterday, Hal Newhouse was yanked under fire in the seventh inning as the New Yorkers piled up 14 safeties off him and his successors.

Joe DeMaggio's two run homer in the first and a three run homer by Hank Bauer in the seventh were the big Yankee wallops. Bauer got five hits in five times at bat in the first game. He settled for one in four in the nightcap.

Freddy Hutchinson was the hard luck guy in the second game after the Tigers got off to a three run start in the initial inning.

Hutch was ahead 3-1 when he walked Gene Woodling to start the Yankee eighth. He was yanked when Raychiter, Henrich stroled toward the plate and Teddy Gray was rushed in to do the Detroit pitching.

Credit to Gray Henrich, who got a pinchhit homer Friday night, duplicated that feat as he teed off on Gray's first pitch for a homer that bounced off the right field foul line pole to make it a 3-3.

Then Evers came through with a bang to get the Tigers and Gray a victory.

The Tigers had no rest today for they opened a four game series with the Chicago White Sox, currently one of the most dangerous teams in the league.

Former Tiger Billy Pierce (5-5) who had assumed the role of Giant killer in some of his recent starts, was named to work the series opener today against Detroit's Virgil Trucks (4-1). It will be Trucks' first appearance since he hurt his arm May 19 while pitching against the Athletics.

Red Cross Opens Annual Meeting

Mrs. Witham Attends Detroit Convention

Mrs. Nyal Witham, executive secretary of the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross, has gone to Detroit to attend the national convention of the Red Cross.

Clarence Moore, Delta county chapter chairman, who is attending the summer session of the Michigan College of Education in Ypsilanti, will go from there to attend a portion of the convention.

The meeting opened today and will continue until Thursday. About 5,000 delegates from all parts of the nation will be in attendance.

Among the speakers will be George C. Marshall, wartime chief of staff and former secretary of state; Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of trusteeship and information from non-self-supporting territories, a United Nations division, and Bonabes de Rouge, secretary general of the League of Red Cross Societies.

The Delta county chapter office in Escanaba will be open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. during Mrs. Witham's absence. Miss Delight Mashek will be in charge.

Ships Collide Off Harbor Beach; Four Lives Lost

body of Boyd and Stouck, who died a short time later.

Thomas Spooner, 45, in the water with Stouck, said the life boat crew "had to pull the wreckage off us with pike poles before they could lift us into the boat." He is in a critical condition.

The body of Louis Pertucci, about 40, South Bend, Ind., frozen foods executive, was recovered from the lake wreckage about 10 hours later. Still missing is Fred Skelley, Benton Harbor auto dealer.

Other injured include Tom Dewhurst, 48, son of the late Judge H. T. Dewhurst, one-time head of the House of David; and Richard Lybrook, 57, auto dealer.

Those less seriously hurt were Richard Skelley, 38, cousin of the man still missing; J. P. (Porky) Harvey, 45; and an unidentified crew member. No one of the 23 crewmen aboard the freighter was believed injured. It continued on toward Milwaukee with its cargo of general freight.

The crash occurred about five and a half miles off shore, in 88 feet of water. The visibility at the time was reported at from 5 to 15 feet. Both ships were blowing their fog whistles, and reported by travelling at reduced speeds.

Port Huron Police Hold Two In Fatal Stabbing Of Husband

PORT HURON, Mich. — (P) — A man and woman were held by police today for questioning in the fatal stabbing of the woman's husband yesterday.

Officers said Alvin Phillips, 29, and Mrs. Louise Williams, 36, gave differing accounts of the death of Fred Williams, 38. All three are Negroes.

Mrs. Williams told police her husband came home drunk Saturday night, started an argument and threatened to kill her. She said he pulled a knife and Phillips, a roomer, tried to get it away from him, inadvertently stabbing the husband.

Phillips however said Mrs. Williams stabbed her husband "just like that" while the three were sitting drinking beer.

Policemen Dodge Real Flying Saucers

PHILADELPHIA — (P) — Patrolmen Philip Buley and Albert McTague have seen some genuine flying saucers—in fact they were almost hit by a couple.

Buley and McTague received a riot call from a diner in suburban upper Darby yesterday. As the two policemen arrived on the scene, they were greeted by a barrage of flying chinaware—including an assortment of saucers.

When Buley and McTague had managed to calm a group of patrons and a waitress, they placed two women and three men under arrest on assault and disorderly conduct charges.

Then Buley went to the hospital. He had been struck on the head during the melee—but not by a flying saucer. It was a bottle.

Eden Leads Attack On British Laborite European Pool Stand

LONDON — (P) — Deputy Conservative leader, Anthony Eden led off today the Conservatives' all-out attack against the Labor government policy on the Schuman plan to pool western Europe's coal and iron resources.

The scheduled two-day debate in the House of Commons may be interrupted, however, by a statement by Prime Minister Attlee on the fighting in Korea.

Labor party leaders are standing fast by a refusal to enter talks on the French proposal to pool resources, if they are committed in advance to bow to an overall international authority.

It is estimated that the Missouri River Valley contains a quarter of U. S. farm lands.

House Action Near On 'Phony' Tax Bill

WASHINGTON — (P) — The $1,010,000,000 excise tax cutting bill was cleared today for House consideration on an "all-or-nothing" basis.

The House rules committee approved procedures which would bar any change in amendment when it opens for debate tomorrow on the floor of the House.

The rule governing debate will, however, give Republicans one chance to offer a substitute proposal. Republicans, who have called the measure a "phony tax reduction," have not disclosed what substitute they have in mind.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee was joined by 60 committee members in requesting a "closed" rule.

A vote is expected Thursday, clearing the way for its members to take a long fourth of July weekend.

All indications pointed to the House taking it, but not until its GOP opponents had fired additional criticism at it.

Bearing the brunt of their attack is a provision in the bill calling for a $433,000,000 boost in the taxes on big corporations — written into the measure as part of the committee's effort to avoid a presidential veto.

President Truman has said he will send back to Congress any bill which reduces excise taxes without providing new revenue that will protect the government from taking an overall loss.

Rap At Boys' State Irks Legionnaires At Soo Convention

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (P) — Upper Peninsula Legionnaires today took sharp issue with an editorial in the Michigan State News, Michigan state college newspaper, dealing with the Wolverine Boys' State.

The Legion convention demanded an immediate retraction and asked for an investigation by Gov. Williams and the state legislature of the individuals responsible for the editorial.

Entitled "It's Not the Way," the editorial last Thursday called the recent meeting of the Wolverine Boys' State "an interesting experiment; an experiment shot with narrow principles, bald-faced fascism and militaristic ideas."

The editorial criticized a mock trial held June 19 intended to show trial procedure.

The word "communist" was mentioned several times during

United States Aid Rushed To Korea, Invaded By Reds

20,000 men had dug in outside Uijongbu but they were pushed aside by the armored forces from the north which rolled on toward the capital.

Another 10,000 southern troops were in trouble at Kangnung, on the east coast 15 miles south of the 38th parallel—the dividing line between the two nations, crossed by the invading northern armies on Sunday. Perhaps a third of the military forces of the American-supported south Korean Republic were imperiled.

In Seoul the U. S. embassy burned its important secret papers. Air raid sirens screamed. The city buzzed after four northern planes strafed the streets. President Syngman Rhee and his cabinet were in emergency session. Ships carrying 700 dependents of Americans in Korea sailed from Ichon for Fukuoka, Japan, with U. S. naval and air escort.

In Washington, President Truman pledged full support to United Nations efforts to end what he called the "unprovoked aggression" against South Korea. He called the attack "willful disregard of the obligation to keep the peace," and added that he was pleased with the speed of the U. N. security council in ordering invading forces to withdraw.

Attack Is Surprise

The President and his top diplomatic and military advisers were following closely the developments in the crisis which has caused grave concern in all world capitals.

Mr. Truman hurried back from a weekend in Missouri to confer with his aides on what can be done to save western-recognized South Korea from Communist conquest.

The headquarters of Gen. MacArthur in Tokyo estimated that 70,000 troops from Soviet-supported North Korea, spearheaded by 70 tanks, launched the invasion on Sunday—long a favorite day for surprise attacks.

The U. N. Security Council, meeting in extraordinary session without Russia, called on both sides to cease fire. It took the action at the strong urging of the United States, which also directed the speeding of military aid to the embattled South Koreans.

But it was to Washington that most eyes and ears were turned in the moment of crisis. Already the U. S. had directed Gen. MacArthur to speed munitions, particularly small arms and ammunition, to the South Koreans.

An initial announcement from Tokyo said 10 F-51 Mustangs would be turned over to Korean pilots in Japan. There are about 60 trained pilots available to fly the sorely needed aircraft.

American military and diplomatic support for South Korea raised officials' hopes in Washington that the Communist invasion might be stemmed and the Korean war prevented from spreading into something worse. President Truman's attitude was "it could be a dangerous situation, but I hope not. It seemed to sum up the view of many of his top officials, who conferred with him last night.

Millionaire Gambler Gets 2 Years In Jail And Fine Of $30,000

NEW YORK — (P) — Frank Erickson, kingpin of a nationwide bookmaking business, today was sentenced to two years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

The chubby, 54-year-old gambling mogul, who had plied his multi-million-dollar betting trade for a quarter century without spending a day in jail, was sentenced in special sessions court.

He could have received up to 60 years in prison.

Erickson threw himself on the mercy of the court last Monday by pleading guilty to a 60-count gambling charge.

Teachers Want $300

PORT HURON — (P) — A board of education offer to raise teachers' salaries by $200 a year has been rejected by the Port Huron teachers club. Mildred A. Kunz, president of the group, said the teachers would not sign contracts for the next school year unless they get a $300 raise.

Killed was Mrs. Mary Suggs, of Camden, and her son, William, six.

The other child, Dolores Suggs, eight, is under observation at Audubon hospital with a possible skull fracture.

The father, William Suggs, Jr., a truck driver, had taken the family to the races for a day's outing. He was standing not far from his wife and children at the time of the crash.

Suspect In Ontario Bank Killing Caught

SIMCOE, Ont. — (P) — Provincial police have charged a 37-year-old man, identified as Frank West, with murder in connection with a double slaying during a bank robbery last Wednesday at Langton, Ont.

Police said West, wind-burned and mosquito-bitten, was picked up late Saturday and jailed on a vagrancy charge.

He was captured at Staffordville, 10 miles west of Langton, where the bandit robbed the bank of $23,000, then killed two pursuers in a wild escape during which he abandoned all the loot.

Ironwood Crash Fatal

IRONWOOD — (P) — Police Officer Donald C. Maier, 30, of Midland, died Saturday of injuries suffered four days earlier when his car collided with an automobile driven by Robert C. Wilson, also of Midland. Wilson is hospitalized at Ironwood.

Beach Project Is Progressing Nicely

The city beach project at Ludington Park is progressing satisfactorily, City Manager A. V. Aronson reported this morning.

The beachhouse construction work is expected to be completed by mid-July, at which time the municipal beach will be transferred to Ludington Park from the north shore of Sand Point. The masonry work has been completed, and the ceilings and roof finished, except for the lobby which probably will be done this week. Concrete floors will be poured and the lobby constructed, with glass walls facing the lake and the park.

Considerable landscaping remains to be done, but city crews are pushing that phase of the project. Many loads of topsoil have been hauled.

Girl, 11, Canonized Before Half Million

VATICAN CITY, — (P) — Pope Pius XII completed sainthood rites yesterday for little Maria Goretti, "Martyr of Purity" who died at the age of 11 resisting a rapist.
